

A message from Mrs Robinson

Dear Families,
 Welcome back to school, we hope you all had a lovely half term. It has been a very bustling week at school, and a definite highlight was Monday's creative drama and writing workshops. The children across school generated ideas for their poetry based on 'Finding my Voice.' The children were all so enthusiastic during the sessions.
 Next week in school is our parent/carer consultation meetings. Please make sure you remember to sign up for a time. This is a great opportunity for you to find out about how your child is doing in school and also provides you with a time to discuss any worries you may have with your child's class teacher.
 We love the fact that Haxby Road School feels like a family, and we are committed to nurturing this sense of community. Please don't hesitate to reach out to us if you'd like to schedule a meeting or simply have a chat. Your involvement and partnership is invaluable to us, and together we can ensure the success and happiness of our children. Mr Smart will be available on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday next week after 3.00pm if you would like to talk to him about your child's health and wellbeing.

Have a fantastic weekend.
Mrs Robinson

"We have been learning about a new artist called Kamau Joseph. He is an African Artist. We have been looking closely at his pictures. Over this half term, we will make our own paintings using his style. I really like doing art lessons."

Children may come to school dressed as their favourite book character or in their PJs for some cosy reading. We would love children to bring in their favourite book to share with their friends.

World Book Day 2024 will celebrate that children are more likely to enjoy reading when their choices are championed and we make reading fun. Read Your Way calls on everyone to let go of pressure and expectations, giving children a choice - and a chance - to enjoy reading.

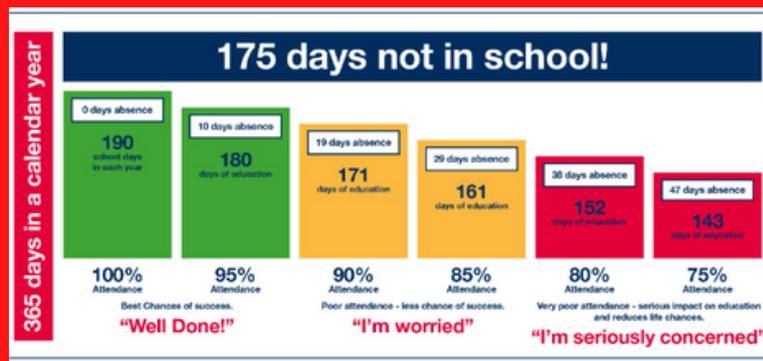

There will be lots of fun activities planned in school and we encourage families to get involved at home too.
