Around school this week!

BRITISH SCIENCE WEEK

It has been an action-packed British Science Week, and the school has been buzzing with inquisitive energy! This year's theme, "Curiosity: What's Your Question?", has inspired our students to look at the world through a scientific lens.

In Key Stage One, our young researchers have been putting their investigative skills to the test by planting seeds and closely examining the fascinating differences between seeds and bulbs. In year 3 and 4 it has been all about magnets! The pupils have devised their own experiments to explore how magnets work.

Jubbergate have been developing their science curiosity with mini beasts, including learning body features and sorting into groups by features. We have learnt about what different insects eat and different minibeast habitats too!

Fishergate were so excited to spend the day with Beegu, the little yellow alien from our class book!

They also enjoyed created some beautiful observational drawings for their mothers day cards!

PARENT CONSULTATIONS

It was brilliant to see so many of you attending parent consultations this week. Thank you to all of you who took the time to attend. As always, we appreciate your support greatly and the partnership between school and home is integral to the success of our children. If you were unable to get an appointment, it isn't too late, just arrange one with the office or send an email to the school admin team and they would be happy to arrange this for you.

PARTNERS IN LEARNING

Easter Attendance Eggstravaganza

As we hop towards the end of the spring term, we want to celebrate the "cracking" commitment our pupils show by coming to school every day. To add a little extra spring to their step, we are launching our Easter Attendance Eggstravaganza! Starting next Monday, every child who arrives at school on time and ready to learn will receive a daily raffle ticket. We will be drawing winners every single afternoon in the run-up to the holidays, with plenty of delicious chocolate eggs up for grabs! It is a wonderful way to reward our "egg-ceptional" learners and ensure that every day counts. We can't wait to see those bright smiles at the school gates—after all, you have to be "in it to win it!"

Careers Showcase

We are so excited for our upcoming Careers Fair next Thursday in the school hall! From 12:45 pm to 2:45 pm, our pupils will have the wonderful opportunity to meet professionals from various industries and start dreaming about their future paths. We believe it is never too early to spark aspiration and curiosity, so we are excited to support the children as they explore different roles. If you would like to showcase your own profession, it is not too late to host a stall—we would love to have you! Please contact the school office if you can share your career journey with our inspired young learners.

RED NOSE DAY for Comic Relief

On Friday, 20th March, join us for Red Nose Day 2026! We invite all pupils to wear something red, from jumpers to socks, and encourage families to make a donation online if they can.
